Still Problems Fighting Raymer Lake Forest Fire

Smoke blankets the Okanagan today from two forest fires. British Columbia Forest Service officials say are critical.

The two fires, one five miles east of Penticton, and the other 22 miles west of Kelowna, have fought off controlling measures by forest service personnel.

More than 350 men and about 40 pieces of heavy earth-moving equipment are battling the two blazes—at Greyback Mountain and Raymer Lake.

Forest service officials in Kelowna said today they were having a difficult time controlling the Raymer Lake fire.

The fire, which began last Wednesday, covers 1,500 acres of timber near an S. M. Simpson Sawmills Ltd. tree farm.

Two hundred men and 20 bulldozers are fighting the blaze.

Forestry spokesmen said they still were experiencing difficulty with construction of the south guard due to rocky terrain.

"There are spot fires along the guards and on some leading edges," a forest official said, "and we have to call in water bombers to help contain the situation."

He said low humidity has compounded the risk for fires, and if any winds occurred, the fire could be "out of hand."

Meanwhile in Penticton, the Pent fire, the forest service's code name, is moving closer to the city.

The 15,000-acre blaze is moving westward and forest officials say they have moved men and equipment from the eastern edge of the flames to the western edge to attempt to contain the flames.

About 15 miles of guard and access roads have been hastily constructed by the 150 men and 20 pieces of heavy earth-moving equipment.

Avenger water bombers have been called to assist the ground parties in the fire.

Flaming trees can be seen from Penticton streets.

Smoke blanketed both communities, and airport officials said visibility was 12 miles.

Department of transport officials said all aircraft traffic is halted while water bombers are in the air near the fire zone.

Meanwhile, forest spokesmen say all open fires are suspended and people caught with fires are liable for prosecution.

This does not pertain to propane fires or barbecues, as long as the coals are not cleaned out of the utensils while they are hot, officials added.

"We have asked the RCMP to assist us in curtailing the fires," he added.

Forest Industry Lockout Hinted

VANCOUVER (CP)—A hint of possible lockout action in the British Columbia coastal forest industry was made Monday in the wake of disputes involving woodworkers and four Vancouver forestry operations.

John Billings, president of Forest Industrial Relations, which bargains for 116 firms, said members will meet Wednesday "to take appropriate action in view of the reckless moves by the International Woodworkers of America."

Industry sources indicated the action could take the form of a partial or full-scale lockout against the 28,000-member constant branch of the union.

The Vancouver disputes have led about 850 members of IWA local 1-217.

Mr. Justice Nathan Nemetz of the B.C. Appeals Court is to begin public and private hearings into the dispute next Monday but Mr. Billings said the disputes threaten his ability to deal with the matter.

"The actions of the IWA are unbelievably irresponsible," he said. "The IWA has gone back on its word given to the government to remain at work during

Freighter Strikes Rock And Sinks Killing Nine

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP)—A freighter sank in the St. Lawrence Seaway after striking a rock early today, apparently carrying nine persons to death in a bow-first plunge and leaving 12 survivors clinging to wreckage.

The 349-foot, 4,000-ton Eastcliffe Hall, owned in Montreal and carrying pig iron from Sorel, Que., to Cleveland, sank within three minutes after striking a shoal about 4 a.m., 18 miles west of here.

The sky was mostly clear and the river calm.

Sgt. Maj. J. E. Legate of the provincial police said there were 21 aboard and he was certain the missing, most of whom were below decks when the ship struck, were drowned.

His figures were confirmed by Roger Belanger, director of the eastern region of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority, Montreal.

Police said they recovered the body of the captain and divers were searching for the others, believed trapped in the ship.

James Fraser, superintendent of engineering for Hall Shipping Ltd., owners of the ship, said the captain was Albert Groulx of Montreal.

He said the captain's son Allan, 16, was among the missing. Also believed drowned were a woman and a child, members of the family of the chief engineer.

Three Cross CUPE Lines In Penticton

PENTICTON — Three union members are fearful for the safety of their homes and families after crossing Canadian Union of Public Employees picket lines here to return to work in city hall Monday.

One woman employee who crossed the picket line has already received threatening telephone calls and one man has asked the Penticton detachment RCMP for protection.

The trio decided to take the action in protest to the lack of a settlement in the strike, which has been in progress since June 4.

One man, who joined the union in June after paying dues for five years, said he objected to name calling by CUPE and said the Penticton local was being run by radicals.

All three employees claimed many members of the striking local were in favor of accepting the latest city wage offer.

One man who returned to work had served eight-days on picket duty and attended one union meeting but said he crossed beach picket lines, which he objected to, every day for the past week.

All three expect attempts to damage their property.

CFMM DIRECTOR

Kelowna Mayor Hilbert Roth has been named to the board of directors of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities. During the group's recent 33rd annual conference Mayor Roth's name was nominated and he was elected. Mayor Roth has written the federation accepting the position, which runs from this June until the June, 1971, conference in Saskatoon. Mayor Roth said it is a "privilege to serve this fine organization and I pledge my full co-operation and support."

Parks Curfew To Be Earlier

City council Monday took with little comment the first step in officially closing Kelowna's parks at 11 p.m. instead of 2 a.m.

The first three readings of a bylaw amendment stated that "all parks shall be closed to the public and to all vehicles, from the present hour of 2 a.m. to the proposed hour of 11 p.m."

The decision, apparently already being enforced by police, was taken as a measure against a recent plague of vandalism and theft occurring in Kelowna City Park. The concession stand has been broken into several times; the washrooms defiled and littered.

Ald. Alan Moss pointed out the only disclaimer in the decision was whether the curfew should be 11 p.m. or midnight. "We all agreed that something must be done to control the trouble in the parks."

Ald. Gwen Holland, who voted against the bylaw amendment, said some people feel the new closing hour leads to an impression of "a police state." She said people might like to walk in the park after taking in a movie.

Several objectors to the city's decision who had said they would protest at the meeting did not show.

A special meeting of council to give the bylaw a final reading will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. The 11 p.m. closing time

Processing, Research Housed In Ellis Street Buildings

Damage has been estimated at $150,000 to three Sun-Rype Products Ltd. buildings hit by fire Monday afternoon.

Cause of the three-alarm blaze at the company's processing and research division, 858 Ellis St., has still not been determined, Chief C. A. Pettman said today.

Fire is believed to have occurred in wood shavings used to feed a boiler that had not been operative for a number of years, company officials said.

From the boilerhouse, the fire extended to part of the research section, to the north, and a warehouse, to the south.

Fire officials say the boilerhouse and warehouse were frame construction, with corrugated iron metal sheets on the exterior.

Wood chips were used as an insulator.

The research building, which also housed the sour cherry pitting line and a storage section, is frame construction with stucco exterior.

FIRST ALARM

First alarm was sounded at 1:30 p.m., fire officials said. Within minutes, the boilerhouse was extensively damaged inside and smoke began to pour out of the research section, then the warehouse.

Forty-five firefighters were able to confine most of the damage to the storage area, while the research section was emptied of chemicals and equipment and a crew with cutting torches worked under a spray of water to cut the sour cherry pitting equipment into pieces for easy removal.

Jan Greenwood, Sun-Rype general manager, said the firm had planned to go into cherry production today.

Instead, the firm will begin processing the fruit Friday.

He said production of other cherry varieties would not be affected because the firm's other plants in the Valley could handle production.

The cherry equipment is highly specialized and is produced by only one firm in North America.

During the height of the fire, firemen fought the stubborn blaze in 86-degree weather.

A lumber stockpile, owned by S. M. Simpson Sawmills Ltd., located across Roanoke Avenue from the research section, was never threatened by the flames.

Smoke was visible for more than a mile and traffic had to be re-routed on Bay and Roanoke Avenues off Ellis Street.

Four employees in the research section were the only personnel on the site.

About 20 people were to have been on the site today, processing cherries which had been trucked in from the Keremeos area.

The processing area was not damaged, although wires had been cut to remove the equipment.

By this morning, crews began to return equipment to the building and shore the ceiling to protect employees.

Mr. Greenwood said members of the executive met Monday night to discuss the fire.

SECOND FIRE

He said no decisions have been made on the buildings—whether to renovate or rebuild at the site.

The fire occurred about one-half mile from the main plant. This is the second fire to hit the plant in 20 years.

The last major fire at the same site was Sept. 9, 1950, when a fire, believed to be the result of spontaneous combustion, damaged a section that was to be officially opened the coming Monday.

Damage at that fire was also $150,000.

Damaged in the 1950 fire were a dehydration plant, processing section and boilerhouse. The front of the research section was rebuilt in 1951.

The buildings were originally built by a Mr. Flynn in 1933 for Modern Foods Ltd.

The first structure was then taken over by Sun-Rype in 1940 from the exchange, which had not occupied the building since 1939.

The warehouse and research sections were added by Sun-Rype in 1947.

The company had to rebuild most of the operation in 1951 after the fire in 1950.

A company official said the buildings and contents were covered by insurance.

Ontario Is Checkerboard For Postal Strike Action

OTTAWA (CP)—Ontario was the checkerboard for rotating strike action and counter-closures by the government in the postal dispute today.

Postal officials reported 962 men on strike at six offices and 661 men sent home without work from 21 tributary stations in the province.

Of the main centres hit with strike action, Hamilton and Sarnia were on their second day. Kitchener and Petrolia were also struck as were single stations in Toronto and Downsview.

The main tributary points closed by the post office included Waterloo and Galt, in connection with the Kitchener strike, and Burlington, St. Catharines, Niagara Falls and Welland, peripheral to Hamilton.

Postal workers ended a two-day In Saskatchewan, 200 Regina walkout and in consequence post offices in Yorkton, Moose Jaw, Swift Current and Weyburn were reopened.

Various Readings Given 13 Kelowna City Bylaws

Thirteen bylaws were given various readings by Kelowna city council Monday night, including one which could involve expropriation of property in the areas of Glenmore Street, from Capri Avenue to Sutherland Avenue and Princess Street, from Harvey Avenue to Belaire Avenue.

First three readings were given a bylaw to acquire property by expropriation for highway purposes, seven feet along the east side of Glenmore and the east side of Princess.

Ald. S. A. Hodge voted against the bylaw, saying the council didn't get enough legal advice and "it's not a good deal for the city."

Earlier in the meeting council authorized an agreement with Capri Enterprises where-in the firm agrees to fully compensate the city for any costs which might arise through expropriation.

A special meeting of council will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday to give the bylaw final reading.

ZONING
Seven of the bylaws dealt with zoning, with six relating to rezoning: to rezone 440 Harvey Ave., from community low rise to service commercial, to permit Sieg Motors to use the lot for sales display; to rezone 1833 Federal St. from local commercial to community commercial low rise, to permit Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lloyd to rent part of their building for different uses; to amend part of the zoning bylaw to include an engineering department Aug. 19 drawing; to rezone 1329 Sutherland Ave. from garden apartment multi family residential to institutional, to permit development of a ballet studio; to rezone the southwest corner of the Harvey Avenue-Richter Street intersection from its present various zones to gas-line service station, to permit Home Oil Distributors Ltd. to develop its present service station; and to rezone 1870, 1880, 1850, 1840 and 1830 Princess St. from single and two family residential to community commercial high rise, to permit Capri Enterprises to expand the Shops Capri shopping centre.

First three readings were given a bylaw to amend the council procedure bylaw by providing for regular council meetings on the second and fourth Mondays of each month. Council meetings are held on the first and third Mondays.

The first two readings were given a bylaw to authorize expenditure of $24,500 received from sale of property at 530 Gaston Ave. for the postal depot to repay a portion of the $263,129 spent for land on the north side of the 1800 and 1700 block Harvey Avenue. This property is destined to become part of the city's recreation complex.

Given the first three readings was a bylaw authorizing dedication of part of the Kelowna Airport-forestry subdivision as highway.

The initial two readings were given a bill to amend the zoning bylaw to change 1811 Sutherland Ave., from single and two family residential to service commercial, to permit Castle Corner Motors to develop a new and used car sales dealership.

First three readings were given a bylaw to close all city parks to the public and vehicles between 11 p.m. and 6 a.m. The special meeting Wednesday afternoon will also give due to this bill.

The first three readings were given a bylaw to close portions of the City Park to the public during the Kelowna International Regatta, Aug. 5 to 9. Council is still waiting to hear from Regatta officials about how much of the park will be fenced.

BRIEFS

Stewart Conducts Council Meeting

Mayor Hilbert Roth was absent from Monday night's city council meeting, preparing to leave for Victoria for a meeting with pollution control board members. And acting mayor Ald. W. J. C. Kane was also away, so city clerk James Hudson had to call for a motion making Ald. Richard Stewart acting mayor to conduct the meeting.

In the first session since June 22 councilmen worked through a heavy agenda in just over two hours, touching on subjects ranging from a garbage collection drive to Regatta activities.

The first item of business was presentation of a city coupon to Raylene Matwyckuk and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Matwyckuk of 525 Okanagan Blvd., for winning a cerebral palsy poster contest. Miss Matwyckuk's poster was selected from 1,200 entries.

Okanagan Youth for Christ were given permission to conduct a "garb-a-ton" Aug. 15. The project involves a number of young people picking up garbage around the city, with each youth sponsored by an individual or group and proceeds going to a proposed coffee house.

The Kelowna and District Jaycettes were given permission to stage the traditional Thursday Regatta children's parade. The parade organizes at the arena parking lot and shoves off at 10 a.m., following a route south along Ellis Street, west on Bernard, to the Bernard mall, where prizes will be distributed.

Also with a Regatta connection, organizers of the mall were given permission to stage the popular "garb-a-ton" again on Bernard Avenue and Abbott Street. The area will be closed to vehicular traffic from 5 a.m. Aug. 5 to early Aug. 9.

Turned down was an application from Kenneth Whyte to operate a SCUBA diving rental agency from Kelowna area beaches. Council agreed with a parks and recreation commission suggestion that safety factors precluded approval.

Kelowna Buckaroos will receive the Kelowna and District Memorial Arena for $150 per game during the next B.C. Junior Hockey League season. The Bucks have a working agreement with the Saskatchewan Blades of the Western Canada Hockey League, but will be run by local hockey men. Ald. Alan Moss said the council should have more information before agreeing to a rent free agreement and councilmen vote unanimously to request more details. Ald. Moss said if the club was a commercial venture it should pay for its practice time, as well as game dates. The normal rental is $150. Last year the club paid 25 per cent of gross, which averaged to $145 per game. Two conditions are that the rental be paid in advance and admission prices not be changed from last season. The motion passed 3-2, with Ald. Gwen Holland, Ald. M. J. Peters and Ald. S. A. Hodge in favor and Ald. Richard Stewart and Ald. Alan Moss against.

A concession fee has been established for car rental agencies at the Kelowna Airport. The three firms currently operating there will pay one and one quarter cents per employee and one quarter cent per passenger, later rising to two cents.

Approved was an application from S. M. Simpson division of Crown Zellerbach for permission to construct a chip line crossing over Roanoke Avenue.

Dave Brown of Castle Corner Motors Ltd. appeared to ask if anything could be done to speed his rezoning application. Mr. Brown said his contractors were ready to proceed, but was told the bylaw must follow normal channels: first two readings Monday night, then to Victoria for initial approval, back for final reading, then to Victoria for final approval, before final reading in August. Mr. Brown has also been told to remove a sign, as the property still hasn't been zoned commercial from residential, or obtain a permit for the sign.

Reaffirmed by council was a motion passed in May approving a beer garden for the City Park tennis court during Regatta. Ald. Gwen Holland said she was against the motion because it might set a precedent.

The Canada committee in Montreal wrote with appreciation of Kelowna's efforts during the Canada Week held in May.

W. J. Herbert of CBC Vancouver, a long-time visitor to Kelowna for Regatta and other major events, wrote to thank Mayor Roth for presenting him with the Order of the Ogoogo. Mr. Herbert, who is retiring from his CBC post, said "It has always been a great pleasure to cover the Kelowna Regatta and I number among my dearest friends, many who live in your wonderful community."

Ald. Stewart, commenting on the indoor swimming pool committee's decision to hire a public relations man for three months at $500 a month, was told by city administration D. B. Herbert the $1,500 comes out of a special Kinsmen Club of Kelowna fund and not donations made to the pool campaign.

Authorized was an agreement for the city to lease some 2,630 square feet of space on the second floor of the Bank of British Columbia building on Bernard Avenue, for the finance department.

Approved was purchase of four items of recreation equipment at an approximate cost of $700.

Also approved was an agreement between the city and the International Association of Fire Fighters, Local 953, permitting members to accumulate sick leave to a maximum 120 days.

Ald. Stewart reported on last week's Okanagan Mainline Municipal Association meeting in Osoyoos, attended by himself, city clerk Hudson and chief building inspector William Conn.

BAN ON MEAT FROM AUSTRALIA

CANBERRA (Reuters) — The export of all Australian beef, veal, lamb and mutton to Canada has been suspended temporarily, Ian Sinclair, acting trade and industry minister said today.

The suspension follows a request from the Canadian government for the action pending a review of the supply position in the Canadian market.

Sinclair said the meat board, principal companies engaged in trade with Canada and representatives of the departments of trade and primary industry met in Canberra Monday to discuss the request.

The meat board has subsequently advised all licensed exporters of the temporary suspension.

Sinclair said he is sure the attitude adopted by the Australians and the New Zealanders, who are also co-operating with the Canadians, will avoid the risk that the Canadian government will adopt more permanent and harmful barriers to trade.

Canada has arranged for an immediate review of the meat situation to determine the duration of the current emergency.

Sinclair said that despite the present difficulties, meat exports to Canada this year will probably exceed the previous record of 45,000 tons in 1969.

Benson And Wife Injured In A Three-Car Accident

EDGAR BENSON
... bumps head

Finance Minister Edgar Benson bumped his head and his wife and five other persons suffered minor injuries in a three-car accident on an approach to Montreal's Champlain Bridge Monday. A National Harbors Board spokesman said one of the NHB's patrol cars collided head-on with Mr. Benson's vehicle at a point where six lanes narrow to five on a Bonaventure expressway approach to the bridge. "Then a third car plowed into the back of Mr. Benson's car. In all seven persons were injured but only slightly. Two of them were patrolmen." Five persons, including Mr. Benson and his wife Marie-Louise, were occupants of a car driven by Charles Bolla of Kingston, Ont.

Selwyn Rocksborough-Smith, British Columbia director of corrections, said Monday one of four Freedomite Doukhobor women being held at Oakalla prison in Burnaby is being force-fed solid foods. He said the woman, whom he did not identify, had been getting weaker after several days of intravenous feeding. The women have been fasting since they were jailed in connection with the June 28 burning of the home of Orthodox Doukhobor leader John J. Verigin in Grand Forks.

Concern is mounting in the fisheries department over incidents involving Russian and Canadian fishing vessels off the west coast of Vancouver Island. A suggestion that Prime Minister Trudeau be asked to take the matter up with Soviet authorities during his expected visit to Moscow later this year was reported Monday to be under informal consideration. The latest reported incident occurred Sunday night when a Russian factory ship nearly struck three Canadian fishing ships off the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Two United States doctors have removed a live grenade embedded in the arm of a South Vietnamese soldier, a military spokesman said today. The doctors, one a woman, donned flack jackets and steel helmets to perform the 15-minute operation recently at a makeshift, open-air surgery constructed of sandbags in northern Quang Ngai province. The grenade was removed by Maj. Paul C. Vose and Capt. Elizabeth G. Gorman. It was handed wrapped in gauze by two explosives experts who detonated it against a nearby cliff.

With the aid of some sharp salesmanship, a youth conference to be held at the University of Brandon in Manitoba has outdrawn three American tours being offered to participants of the World Youth Assembly at the UN. Clark Fraser, a representative of Vancouver, said Monday that in three hours Friday he signed up his quota of 112 participants. While there were Charles Manson, 35-year-old shaggy-haired leader of a hippie-type "family", Kanarek said no one on the jury represented Manson's "way of life". Lawyers for Manson and three girl followers on trial with him already have exhausted their permissible pre-emptory challenges of prospective jurors.

A court martial today acquitted a young United States non-commissioned officer of the unpremeditated killing of an unarmed Vietnamese prisoner. The five-man court took 100 minutes to find Specialist John E. Lanasa, 23, of Baton Rouge, La., not guilty of killing Do Van Man, a suspected Viet Cong prisoner, in September. Lanasa, a sergeant at the time in an infantry platoon, was accused of unpremeditated murder and assault on Man during an operation near Phuoc Tan Hung village, 25 miles southwest of Saigon in the Mekong Delta.

Identifying Victims Hard Job
TORONTO (CP) — The process of identifying victims of the July 5 jetliner crash near here has turned provincial policemen into medical detectives and Woodbridge Memorial Arena into a makeshift morgue.
The ice surface, normally used for hockey, displayed a grimmer spectacle Monday as newspaper men were given what will be the only look by outsiders at the investigation operation.
Resting on the ice were rows of grey-wood coffin-sealers containing plastic bags of human remains, brought from freezer trailers outside in preparation for autopsies in nearby dressing rooms.
On one side the bleachers supported a row of coffins to be used for shipping remains to next of kin once positive identification is made.
On a nearby table a single blue candle burned, placed there by Jewish embalmer M. C. Benjamin as a traditional memorial light to the eight Jewish passengers among the 100 victims.
Mr. Benjamin, working as a volunteer, said Jewish tradition also demands that someone stay with a body until burial, but a Toronto rabbi "has ruled this would be impossible in this situation."

SOME WATCHED, OTHERS WORKED

Wherever there is a fire people gather and among the crowd are many children, especially if school is out. The Sun-Rype Products Ltd. fire on Ellis Street Monday afternoon was no exception, as youngsters flocked to the scene on foot and on bicycles to get a ringside seat. Although they didn't get into the way of firemen too much, the youngsters were dangerously close to the fire at times. On the left the "junior fire control officers" watch Kelowna Volunteer Fire Brigade firemen hustle through the task of checking the flames before too much damage was done. Right, members of Sun-Rype's research staff, aided by volunteers, removed valuable items from the firm's research section, but quick action by firemen later prevented fire damage in this section of the building, although there could be some damage from smoke and water.—(Courier photos.)

Tree Cutting Not Approved

No trees will be removed from along Kelowna streets without approval of city council.

And to date, says Ald. S. A. Hodge, there has been no permission given to cut down any city trees.

Tree removal became a hot issue earlier this year after a petition from Bernard Avenue residents sought removal of trees along their street. Ald. Hodge said Monday night the request for tree removal came from residents and council to date has not decided to remove any trees.

There were rumors earlier this year that $5,000 allotted for Bernard Avenue tree removal had been cut from the 1970 budget. A major reason given in favor of removal was problems caused by telephone and power lines by high, heavy growth trees.

The matter arose Monday when Ald. Alan Moss asked if there was a program to "get the situation co-ordinated."

He said the large trees presented a problem for the engineering department and there are smaller varieties available. Keeping large trees trimmed was a big job; he watched a crew trimming a tree recently and estimated the job took half an hour.

Ald. Richard Stewart said any current installations are of smaller varieties, but the city should have a firm policy.

SEEN and HEARD

Attention in provincial court today was riveted for a few minutes on lawyer Warren Wilkinson. A woman in the public gallery, presumably a client, handed the lawyer a wad of bills. Mr. Wilkinson proceeded to count the money. There was $1,000 in $20 bills. He calmly folded the cash and stuffed it in his breast pocket.

Eight-year-old Gordon Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clive Paul of Kelowna, is believed to be the youngest swimmer to cross Okanagan Lake. Gordon was one of 20 swimmers who took part in the swim Sunday from the west side across to the aquatic point. All swimmers will be introduced to the audience at the Wednesday aquatic aquacade, which starts at 7:30 p.m. Trophies for top places will also be presented. Gordon was not the only one in the Paul family to make the "big swim," his 10-year-old sister, Shannon and brother Kevin, 12, also completed the marathon event.

Weather prospects for the Central Okanagan during the next 30 days are rather mixed. Although the long-range forecast calls for near normal temperatures, the area lies in a section which could receive precipitation ranging from moderate to heavy.

Joseph Laxdal, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Laxdal, 447 Patterson Ave., graduated from Michigan State University last month with a bachelor of arts in physical education. He has been appointed physical education director of community schools for western Manitoba.

Wild ducks at Echo Lake, like all wild fowl, have established well defined domains. This was dramatically illustrated for three youngsters who were feeding bread crumbs to the flocks, who have become so tame they follow people sauntering along the shoreline, seeking handouts. While feeding one duck family, another momma duck flew in to get in on the bread line. The first one defended her territory with a furious attack. This was repeated four or five times before the intruder retreated to her own brood in her own part of the bay.

Const. L. M. Baker, with the Kelowna RCMP detachment for about four years, has been transferred to Ashcroft, west of Kamloops. Const. Baker leaves for his new posting Thursday. An Ashcroft Mountie, Const. Lyle Nurse, will replace Const. Baker on the Kelowna detachment. Const. Baker served on general duties and highway patrol during his stay in Kelowna.

A young Kelowna office worker doesn't know whether to feel complimented or condemned. Three times in separate stores during the weekend he was mistaken for a floorwalker or a clerk.

Motorists from outside B.C. could find themselves $15 poorer by disobeying Kelowna's left turn regulations. Left turns are controlled at several intersections at noon hour and between 4:30 p.m. and 6 p.m. Drivers with B.C. licenses who make an illegal left turn lose two points under the demerit system, but out-of-province motorists face the old $15 penalty. Many drivers are ignoring, or missing the signs, especially at the Pandosy Street, Harvey Avenue corner.

A person's reputation has a way of following him around, particularly if he is a soprano personality. Vernon snowmobile driver Bruce Georgeson stepped into a stock car this year for the first time and is enjoying a highly successful season. Former B.C. snowmobile racing champion Dave Sparrow of Kelowna was at the Vernon stock car track Saturday night and someone offered to build a car if he'd drive. The theory seems to be if one wintertime champ can find success in summer racing, another also should.

FRIDAY DEADLINE

Area Workers Still Off Job

Major Kelowna projects are still idle, in spite of the lifting Monday of the employer's lockout which paralyzed B.C.'s $200,000,000 construction industry for three months.

Al Barnes, Southern Interior Building and Trades Council president, said unions are trying to reach a settlement with the Construction Labor Relations Association before the provincial government intervenes.

Labor Minister Leslie Peterson threatened to legislate the men back to work after the CLRA lockout was lifted and gave unions until midnight Friday to send their members back to projects.

"They're (the unions) still trying to bang through an agreement," Mr. Barnes said. "They want an agreement before bill 33 is used."

A spokesman for Douillard Construction Ltd., a Kelowna firm with contracts on the new federal government building on Queensway and the Legion renovation, said there was no indication yet when work would resume.

"It depends when the men decide to come back—a few men showed up Monday but their union told them they weren't supposed to be at work so they left," the spokesman said.

None of the Douillard crew appeared for work today.

Other projects still idle are the $30,000,000 Hiram Walker and Sons Ltd. distillery in Winfield and the $4,500,000 Crown Zellerbach corrugated container factory in Kelowna.

Opening date of the multi-million dollar Orchard Park shopping centre on Highway 97 has been altered due to the lockout and to accommodate Simpson's Sears.

Duncan Stewart, engineering and maintenance manager of Marathon Realty, developers of the project, said the completion date for stage one is now set for August, 1971, instead of May, 1971.

The date was changed partially because of new design plans to be incorporated in Simpson's Sears department store; the major project in the $4,500,000 first stage.

"Also we didn't want to go to tender until contractors knew what they were going to use for labor figures," Mr. Stewart said.

Marathon expects a settlement in the stormy B.C. construction scene before the project goes to tender Aug. 17.

Transient Drug Offender Gets Suspended Sentence

A transient today was given a suspended sentence after pleading guilty to possession of marijuana.

Charles N. Taylor, no fixed address, earlier pleaded guilty and today was placed on 12 months probation, which Judge D. M. White said would have "stringent conditions."

Two motorists were fined for driving with a blood alcohol count of more than .08 per cent. Arthur D. Spindall, Main, N.M., and Evelyn Irwin were both fined $250 and prohibited from driving for three months.

Robert Malloy, no fixed address, was ordered to serve the remainder of a jail sentence after he was convicted of a breach of probation. On probation for theft over $50, Malloy will be returned to prison to serve three months.

A $50 fine was imposed on William G. German, Kelowna, who pleaded guilty to being a minor in possession of alcohol.

Fined $100 for using colored gas in a non-farm vehicle was Siegfried Scherle, Kelowna.

Joan Hamblin, president of the Kelowna society, particularly advises tourists to provide adequate ventilation and "shade" when keeping pets in parked vehicles. Dogs are particularly prone to mortality in this kind of confinement, since they perspire through their tongues and need much more life-giving oxygen on hot days.

The best insurance against pet death when travelling is to leave them at home or board them out, said Miss Hamblin. Carrying an adequate water supply for pets is especially wise, she added, since the liquid isn't always available or readily accessible to pets at most stopping points.

In an effort to provide thriftpurchasers for tourist pets, the local society is working on fibreglass-lined cement drinking fountains to be placed at strategic sites in the city. The first one is expected to go into operation this week.

Sunshine Continues

Sunny skies should prevail over the Okanagan today and Wednesday, as a ridge of high pressure off the coast continues to dominate the weather patterns.

Monday's high was 91, the overnight low 54, and no precipitation was registered. Low tonight and high Wednesday should be 48 and 88.

CONTRACT AWARDED OTTAWA (Special)—A Kelowna firm, Henderson's Cleaners Ltd., has been awarded a $15,600 contract for dry cleaning and laundry services at Canadian Forces Base, Chilliwack. The contract is one of 11 unclassified defence contracts, totalling almost $11 million, awarded recently by the federal department of supply and services.

BIGGEST BUDGET SET FOR REGATTA

A record budget has been set for the Kelowna International Regatta.

In past years the budget has been about $35,000, with the occasional small surplus budgeted. Last year the figure climbed into the $40,000 range.

This year's figure is $80,000. A breakdown of figures shows anticipated revenue of $80,300, with expenditures to be $7,431, for a budgeted surplus of $12,868.

A major reason for the budget increase, says Regatta director-general Howard MacIntosh, is expansion of the water show to five days from the traditional four.

The 4th edition of Canada's greatest water show opens on a Wednesday, Aug. 5, but this year runs into Sunday. Highlights of the fifth day will be a giant public barbecue in the City Park and finals of several water events.

Emphasis this year has been shifted back to the water, with a host of aquatic events planned for people of all ages.

Problem Attacked

City engineering staff and consultants are still working on the odor problem at Kelowna's sewage treatment plant.

But as yet, they aren't making any promises.

City engineer Vance Borch said Monday his crews are "getting on top of the situation," but have not definitely cured the problem.

"For several days the odor was just awful," Mr. Borch said. "It really was unacceptable."

But since an initial round of complaints from residents near the Raymer Avenue sewage plant, no one has brought up the odor problem, the engineer said.

"We have done some masking with deodorants," he added.

Part of the problem is due to the change-over to a revised and expanded sewage treatment system; this has cost the city $3,700,000. New equipment and processes need to be calibrated and set up, Mr. Borch said.

"Another problem is that there is no one we can turn to for advice," he said; the plant is the first of its kind in Canada.

"We're working on it though, and we've come a long way," Mr. Borch concluded.

Kelowna Girl Holds Ticket

A Kelowna girl has a chance to win $70,000 on a horse race to be run in Manitoba Wednesday.

Leslie Ann Addison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Addison, is currently touring Europe and doesn't know about her chance at a small fortune.

Mr. Addison said Monday his daughter received a telegram saying she had her ticket drawn on the horse Croquemitaine, for Wednesday's running of the Manitoba Centennial Sweepstakes at Winnipeg.

First prize is $70,000, followed by $27,000 for second and $17,000 for third. All holders of tickets drawn receive a portion of a $7,000 pot.

Miss Addison, 19, isn't due home until Aug., but if her parents have some good news Wednesday they can contact her in Monte Carlo.

BUILDINGS CHECKED

The regular inspection by the Kelowna Fire Brigade for June included 18 hotels, five schools, eight halls, 92 other public buildings and one theatre. There were 25 fire alarms and four fire drills were conducted in public buildings last month. Ninety-six ambulance calls were received.

DOWN AGAIN

The level of Okanagan Lake is down slightly from last week and still considerably lower than at this time last year. The reading Monday was 100.50 feet, compared with 100.72 the week before and 102.03 for the same week last year.

Peters Seeking City Health Lab

A public health laboratory has been suggested as Kelowna's project for the 1971 B.C. Centennial.

But Ald. M. J. Peters told city council Monday night the project has been rejected by the Kelowna centennial committee and he isn't happy with the decision.

Ald. Peters said the project was suggested by South Okanagan Health Unit Medical Officer Dr. D. A. Clarke to centennial committee chairman Gordon Hartley. Ald. Peters said the project was eliminated by the committee, which has reportedly narrowed its choice to six or eight projects, but is still to report to city council.

"With the area's increasing population and great influx of people during summer what kind of project could be better?" asked Ald. Peters, as he urged the committee to reconsider.

"This would help us do something beside complain about pollution."

A motion to have the committee reconsider and explore the project's practical aspects didn't find a seconder and was lost.

Ald. Alan Moss said such a laboratory wasn't just a municipal project. "It involves the region district," possibly the whole Valley."

Ald. S. A. Hodge said he understood the committee was considering a fountain which he described as "a complete waste of time."

City finance director Harold Hall, a member of the committee along with Ald. W. J. Kane, said the health laboratory suggestion was sent by the committee to the provincial government.

The federal government recently announced a $10,000,000 centennial grant to B.C. and Premier W. A. C. Bennett has suggested $7,000,000 be spent on health services.

This brought quick response from Ald. Gwen Holland who said, "we shouldn't have to wait for a centennial to get essential health services."

Ald. Peters will discuss the matter with Mr. Hartley.

Building Code Expected Soon

Kelowna may take only part of a newly-written National Building Code, and will probably stick to the old code, except sections dealing with plumbing and fire.

A request from the Kelowna House Builders Association was that council adopt the new code when it arrives (the staff expects it soon). The city has used the building code written in 1958 and amendments since then.

Behind the house builders' request—made last year as well—is an attempt to get the city to accept plastic pipe as a construction material in homes. Now it is allowed only in school laboratories.

Local contractors have for some time been attempting to get plastic pipe allowed here.

This may soon be accepted by the city. "We are prepared to accept it (plastic pipe) in single-family homes," building inspector Bill Conn said Monday.

He said the pipe—less expensive than copper pipe—has been under testing in bigger communities and Kelowna has been waiting to see the results.

Improvements made in plastic pipes have covered some of the city's original objections. The city will consider the plumbing section of the new building code, released in Eastern Canada July 9.

Council also promised to give "full consideration" to a new National Fire Code as long as the provincial fire marshal approves the new code.

Bids For Games Opened Today

MONTREAL (CP)—About 25 bids are scheduled to be presented today and Wednesday to the Canadian Amateur Sports Federation for the 1973 Canada Summer Games.

One bid comes from Kelowna, prepared by the city for the Regional District of Central Okanagan. There are several other B.C. bids, including Kamloops.

Among other cities bidding are Edmonton, Victoria, Ottawa, London, Hamilton, Thunder Bay, Roberval, Que. and the Toronto borough of North York.

A decision will be announced some time in August.

The first national games, the Canadian Winter Games, were held in Quebec City in 1967.

The first Canada Summer Games were held last year at Halifax-Dartmouth.

There is strong feeling the 1973 summer games will be awarded to the West and Kelowna officials think a smaller community has a good chance.

Two Cars Missing

Two cars were stolen and one recovered overnight in the city as RCMP coped with a busy night.

Police report a car stolen during the weekend in Kelowna was recovered in Vernon Monday. The thief has not been arrested.

Two youths took a car early today from a local service station, then crashed the vehicle into a tree at 750 Patterson Ave. Witnesses said they saw two youths run from the damaged vehicle. Police have descriptions and are searching for the thieves.

A 1928 Overland, black top and fenders with grey body was stolen during the past four days from a resident at 1892 Copeland Place.

A taxi driver's uniform jacket was stolen from his cab while it was parked near the Greyhound bus depot Monday at 10:30 p.m.

Police arrested a man reported unconscious on Bernard Avenue. He was intoxicated and lodged in police cells about 3:25 a.m. today.

Peter Stoltz music store in Rutland, broken late during the weekend, reports about $400 worth of records and tapes were stolen. The thief broke a window in the front door to gain entry.

Short Takes

We chuckled about the woman who complained to city hall about the low water pressure. When a city workman came up to check he found she had not turned the faucet on full. Her red face was not from the reflection of a forest fire. There but for the grace of God, go I...

Wish I'd had a camera item. Sunday afternoon a young father was busy washing a swanky sports car while his cute little trick of a four-year-old daughter was vigorously washing down a huge truck. She could just nicely reach the top of the wheels.

A survey emphasizes the value of community colleges. Mature students have a higher rate of achievement, a lower rate of dropout and higher rate of on-time graduation according to the results of a three-year survey of community college transfer students at the University of British Columbia. According to the publication Canadian University and College, the survey points out an increasing number of students are going on to university after completing two years at a community college. Another result shows an increasing number of women students among the transfer students.

A Short Take reader was a bit wrathful on Monday when he reported that late Sunday afternoon he was driving into town on the highway near McGavin's bakery. He was travelling at the speed limit when a red car with a local licence, driven by a woman, roared by on his left—which means the left-turn lane—considerably over the speed limit. His point was that that lane is not a passing lane and in it the limit is 25 mph. Incidentally, he passed her while she was waiting to make a left-hand turn into Capri. She hadn't gained much but had created a traffic hazard. Sometimes one wonders...

The Canadian Press says that if you want to assess a restaurant these days look at the price of the coffee.

The higher class the restaurant the higher the coffee price. The exclusive restaurant will be charging 20 cents. The 15 cent cup of coffee is the most common and there are still many places charging 10 cents. Many of the 20 cent restaurants compensate by making no charge for refills. The 15 cent price is general over the Maritimes although many small restaurants are keeping to 10 cents. In Montreal those not charging 20 cents say it is coming. In Ottawa at downtown snack bars the price is 10 cents, with 15 in the better restaurants. Toronto is generally 15 cents. West of the Great Lakes the 20 cent cup is very rare while 15 is common and 10 cents is still charged in many places. Increased operating costs, new minimum wage laws increasing payroll costs and increased wholesale price of coffee are given as reasons for the increased price per cup. Brazil supplies about 40 per cent of the world's coffee beans and wholesalers say that heavy frosts last year destroyed millions of trees with a resulting short crop. Have a cup?

If it keeps on we soon will not have many trees left. In the Twenties and Thirties the American chestnut tree was all but wiped out; then the Dutch elm disease struck; oak wilt was discovered in 1942; large stands of spruce trees have been wiped out. The latest is a flare up of oak wilt in West Virginia and the oak stands in that state are in danger of being wiped out. The oak is a magnificent tree, symbol of strength and endurance. We do not see many of them in the west and those mostly an inferior variety. Forests cover more than 70 per cent of West Virginia and about half are oaks. The annual crop runs about 20 million. There is no known cure for a tree with oak wilt and no known way to vaccinate healthy trees against it. But scientists are trying to find a solution. At present they are trying to control the spread by burning diseased trees. Almost it seems that if man doesn't destroy his friends the trees by forest fires, the bugs and fungi get them.

Probe A Little Further

(Victoria Colonist)

Acting on a request initiated by Dr. Ernest Long of the United Church of Canada the World Council of Churches has appealed to its now more than 200 Protestant and Orthodox member churches in more than 80 countries for money to help American deserters in Canada.

The WCC estimates that there are between 25,000 and 75,000 American draft-evaders and deserters now in Canada and states that many have emotional problems which prevent them from becoming "landed immigrants able to work."

Heart-rending as this appeal is made to sound, it is to be sincerely hoped that before allowing emotionalism and pity to sway their better judgment and empty their purses, member churches will investigate a little further the whole matter of American deserters in Canada.

A fair start here would be a study of the behavior of these unfortunate people since they have arrived in this country. There is already ample proof that their influence on Canadian youth has been anything but good. It has also recently been publicly stated that the series of mini-riots which have plagued Ottawa and other major cities in Canada were led largely by American deserters and draft-dodgers.

Apparently their "emotional problems" though sufficient to prevent them from doing an honest day's work are no hindrance to their leading riots, protests and preaching violence in the streets of Canada.

'Big Three' Automobile Makers Meet The Union This Week

By BUD JORGENSEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Negotiations for a new contract between the Big Three automakers and the United Auto Workers begin this week and whatever the outcome the impact of the ultimate settlement will be significant.

The car manufacturers are in the midst of a serious slump in sales at a time when foreign manufacturers have presented the first real threat to the North American market.

The more than 50,000 Canadian members of the UAW, like other Canadian workers, are seeing inflation erode the purchasing power of their dollar.

The Canadian government is trying to control inflation with a wage and price guideline approach—already rejected by the unions—and is involved in negotiations for continuation of the Canada-U.S. Automobile Agreement.

The auto pact, as it is commonly called, creates, in effect, a common market for the two countries. The agreement is complex but basically cars are moved freely across the border between manufacturing plant and retail outlet. The agreement has helped development of the Canadian industry.

CONTRACTS SOON UP

The current three-year contracts between the UAW and the Big Three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—expire in mid-September. Contracts in Canada and the United States expire at the same time.

The union will have three negotiating teams on each side of the border.

Ford Motor Co. of Canada Ltd. and General Motors Canada Ltd. begin negotiations Wednesday, with teams from both sides moving into downtown Toronto hotels. The Ford talks are scheduled to be moved in mid-August to Windsor, Ont., across the river from Detroit where the U.S. companies will be holding negotiations.

Chrysler Canada Ltd. will move its negotiating team into Detroit for the opening on Friday. A spokesman said joint negotiations with the U.S. parent will be held on the major contract issues and the Canadian team will split off later to work out specific local issues.

Both the union and the companies concede that in the event of a strike in the U.S. company operations on both sides of the border would be stopped because of corporate integration.

under the auto pact, the supply of a variety of parts would soon run short.

The issues expected to take up a major portion of the negotiating time are:

Wages—The union has said it wants a "substantial increase" but has not publicly spelled out its demand. The companies say increased costs will mean increased car prices and higher prices will make the battle against foreign cars more difficult.

Pensions—A substantial portion of the union membership is solidly behind the "30 and out" campaign—retirement after 30 years service. The U.S. target is a $500-a-month minimum pension. A person joining a company at 18 would be 48 after 30 years and the companies object to losing experienced men that young. Dennis McDermott, head of the UAW in Canada, describes assemblyline work as a "dull, repetitious mind-blowing job." He says the early retirement plan has captured the imagination of many young employees. The companies note that a major portion of their work forces consist of young people who, they believe, are more concerned with immediate benefits.

Unemployment pay—All three companies have funds to supplement government unemployment insurance. The funds were designed for temporary layoffs and, at least from the company viewpoint, not as a hedge against a recession. All three funds are under strain with the situation the worst at GM, which is the biggest employer and which is the greatest sales slump. The scale of contributions to the fund will likely be reviewed but for immediate relief the union wants lump-sum contributions. The companies will likely press for reconsideration of the way the funds operate.

PARITY ACHIEVED

The Canadian unions in negotiating the last contract achieved wage parity with the U.S. workers. A salary-increase clause pegged to the cost of living indexes developed by the two governments has allowed wages to drift apart. The wages in the U.S. are now higher than in Canada by a few cents an hour. The unions consider the companies committed to wage parity.

The base wage for an assembler is about $3.80 an hour. It was about $3.20 at the start of the current three-year contract.

One company estimates the average wage for its employees is about $4.30 an hour, up from about $3.20 in 1967. The average compensation, including wages and estimated value of fringe benefits, is set at about $5.50 now, up from about $4.20 in 1967.

General Motors has about 28,000 UAW workers in plants at St. Therese, Que.; in the Ontario centres of Oshawa, Scarborough, St. Catharines, London and Windsor and in service depots across the country. The company had about 23,000 Canadian employees when the 1967 contract was signed.

Ford has about 13,400 UAW workers in Ontario in plants at Oakville, Windsor, St. Thomas, Niagara Falls and Bramalea, and in service depots. It has added about 2,000 UAW workers in the last three years.

Chrysler has about 11,000 UAW workers, primarily at Windsor, and at Ajax and ETOBICOKE, Ont., and in service depots. Its work force has remained fairly stable since 1967.

Chinese Treat Not Impressive

By PHILIP DEANE
Foreign Affairs Analyst

Despite their confrontations by proxy in Indochina and the Middle East, the U.S. and Russia both seem satisfied with the rate of progress they are making in their talks to limit strategic arms — i.e. to control the proliferation of missiles and anti-missiles but though they seem to like one another's attitude they seem to be an impasse for the time being, over the questions of anti-missiles because military experts from both countries want to have at least some anti-missiles against Chinese missiles.

The diplomats and scientists both in Russia and the U.S. are not so impressed by the Chinese treat. They concede that by orbiting a satellite, China has given proof of the scientific sophistication necessary to create a force of offensive missiles—but China is very far from having the industrial sophistication to back-up the scientists' produce. She will not be able, for many years, to have missiles in sufficient numbers to threaten either Russia or America.

But the American and Russian military experts are saying that if they agree to a certain limit on the number of their missiles, China might then refuse to discuss participating in agreement to limit strategic arms until the has reached parity with either Russia or the U.S. However, unlikely such an achievement may seem on China's part, the fears of the Russian and American military bring up the questions China's intentions in the nuclear field.

HOW MUCH IS ENOUGH

There is no doubt that China feels she must have sufficient missiles to get her a retaliatory capacity—the possibility to fire back should she be attacked by either Russian or American missiles. How many missiles will China consider to be sufficient? Leaving the technical question aside, Chinese missiles in sufficient numbers to strike a retaliatory blow, could exert considerable blackmail on either Russia or the U.S.—on this, Soviet and American military planners agree and they want, so as to be able to start a Chinese surprise attack.

But how many anti-missiles are enough? The numbers the Americans consider enough alarm Russia which thinks that such a quantity of anti-missiles might enable the U.S. to launch a surprise attack on Russia and parry the retaliatory blow and vice-versa. And this is where the talks are stalled.

Peace Gardens Form The Border

By BOB BOWMAN

Not long ago statesmen, speaking about Canada-U.S. relations, continually evoked about 4,000 miles of undefended border. Bob Edwards, who published the Calgary "Eye-Opener," once defined a statesman as "a dead politician and there should be more of them." In any case the 4,000 miles of undefended border reference became trite and is seldom heard now.

Residents of Manitoba and North Dakota came up with a better idea in 1929, inspired by the International Association of Gardeners. It was a border that would be an international peace park and they were so successful that such a park was opened on July 14, 1932, even though those were the days of the deepest depression. The ceremony was attended by 50,000 Canadians and Americans.

The International Peace Park straddles the Manitoba-North Dakota border between Boissevain and Dunsmuir. It comprises 2200 acres of garden, roads, trails, cabins and a bathing beach. Some of the trees in the park came from George Washington's home at Mount Vernon and W. L. MacKenzie King's estate at Kingsmere, Quebec.

There is a plaque in the park that reads: "To God and His Glory we two nations dedicate this garden and pledge ourselves that as long as man shall live we will not take up arms against one another." Another somewhat similar project was also undertaken in 1932 when Waterton-Glacier International Peace Park of 1754 square miles was formed along the border of Alberta and Montana. More recently the Island of Campobello in New Brunswick, former summer home of Franklin D. Roosevelt, was dedicated as an international park in a ceremony attended by Prime Minister Pearson and President Kennedy. The island is close to the Maine border.

OTHER EVENTS ON JULY 14

1645—French and Iroquois signed Treaty of Three Rivers.

1696—Iberville and Bonaventure captured English ship near St. John's, Newfoundland.

1760—General Murray left Quebec to attack Montreal with 2500 troops.

1789—Alexander Mackenzie arrived at Arctic Ocean.

1756—General Montcalm captured Oswego, N.Y. and control of Lake Ontario.

1852—Rock slide at Cape Diamond, Quebec, took several lives.

1915—Sir Robert Borden was first Dominion prime minister to attend a British Cabinet meeting.

1940—Lieutenant General A. G. L. McNammond was placed in command of a British Corps including Canadian units overseas.

China, Russia Are Backing Away From Their 1969 Confrontation

MOSCOW (Reuters) — China and the Soviet Union appear to be gradually backing away from the perilous confrontation which they reached along their border rivers early in 1969.

But if the recent now is on talking rather than on shooting, they certainly have moved no closer in ideologies since their two prime ministers, Chou En-lai and Alexei Kosygin, met in Peking in September.

The prospect of a thaw in the icy relations between the two Communist giants seems remote. But the joint border talks which got under way a month after that dramatic meeting in Peking are at least continuing, if without much signs of progress.

Party differences remain as icy as the Usuri and Amur rivers during last year's bloody skirmishes between Chinese and Soviet frontier troops.

Now China is reported to have agreed to the appointment of a new Soviet ambassador to Peking after a three-year break.

Vladimir Stepanov will become his country's first envoy to Peking since 1967, when Sino-Soviet relations reached an all-time low in the wake of China's cultural revolution. His appointment is in line with Moscow's stated desire to improve relations with China, at least on the diplomatic level.

EXPRESSIONS REGRETS

Stepanov has a reputation of being a strictly orthodox Communist official.

There have been other strains in the wind too. Last month Chou cabled Kosygin expressing sympathy at recent natural disasters in the Soviet Union—a completely unremarkable move except when it comes from Peking.

But the main pointer of stabilization is the fact that both sides appear prepared to continue their nine-month-old talks in Peking even without any speedy, dramatic breakthroughs.

The leader of the Soviet delegation, Deputy Foreign Minister Vasili Kuznetsov is understood to be back in Moscow for the third time since the talks began in October. He is reported to have returned because of illness.

Even before he last flew back from Peking in April, both East European and Western diplomats here were questioning just how long the Russians could keep one of their leading troubleshooters in the Chinese capital.

Now, nearly three months later, nothing seems to have changed, and the same question is being asked.

RUMORS GROW

Each time Kuznetsov, a former ambassador to Peking and the Kremlin's top expert on Chinese affairs, leaves Peking, his departure from the conference table prompts a flood of rumors. Either the talks are deadlocked, or on the point of complete collapse, or the Soviet delegation is about to be downgraded.

But after two or three weeks, the troubleshooter heads east again, and the rumors subside. The only reasonable explanation is that both sides regard the talks as an insurance against any military clash in the great Communist schism.

FRONTIER CALM

All appears quiet along their 4,000-mile frontier, although Moscow sources still say China is putting the country on a war footing and fanning anti-Soviet hostility.

Last month, Soviet Communist party leader Leonid Brezhnev accused China of dragging out the discussions, perhaps the first hint of Kremlin concern that the talks should make some sort of progress soon.

A special guest with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anderson of Brookside Avenue is an old school chum, Mrs. Ann Bruce of Campbell, Calif., whom they have not seen for 28 years.

Among those enjoying the Saturday night cruise on board the MV Fintry Queen was the wedding party of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Masters of Kelowna who were married at 5 p.m. Members of the wedding party, who had a wonderful time on the cruise, were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morris of Winfield, Jim Kerr and Mrs. Rose Siebel.

A guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jones of Abbott Street is Mr. Jones' mother, Mrs. Edith Jones of Palm Springs, Calif. During the weekend their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Mutter and family, formerly of Vancouver, visited with the family enroute to Prince Edward Island, where Mr. Mutter has accepted a position with the provincial government.

Some 60 members of the Senior Citizens, Branch 17, enjoyed a Sunday cruise on board the MV Fintry Queen. Many of the members enjoyed reminiscing about early day trips on the Okanagan and some recalled boat trips to Penticton about 40 years ago.

Back from attending a very successful reunion of the nursing alumni of the Brandon General Hospital are four Kelowna nurses, Mrs. Harold Long, Mrs. D. W. Marr, Mrs. Eric Wightman and Mrs. G. E. Hough. The latter was accompanied by her husband George on their motor trip to the prairies.

The reunion, part of Manitoba's centennial celebration, was attended by 385 BGN graduates, with representatives of each year from 1920 up. Also present for the memorable occasion were all three of the matrons who have served during that time.

A special tune to welcome a visitor from Finland, Liisa Hinnanen, was played by Bob Rebagliati during the Sunday picnic cruise on the MV Fintry Queen. Miss Hinnanen was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Viljo Bragge of Casa Loma.

Service Jewels Presented To Kelowna Couple

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Johnston of Martin Avenue, Kelowna, were honored at a recent gathering in the Independent Order of Oddfellows hall in Cranbrook by the combined lodges of Key City No. 42 and Maple Leaf No. 19 of which they were valued members for 60 and 50 years respectively.

More than 100 brothers and sisters from Victoria, White Rock, Kelowna, Lethbridge, Kimberley, Creston and Fernie were in attendance to witness the presentation of 60 and 50 year jewels. This significant event was never experienced before in the history of the two lodges.

Mr. Johnston first joined the Order in 1910 at Lethbridge and in 1912 came to the East Kootenay. Upon return from overseas he arrived in Cranbrook in 1919 to make his home, serving as secretary of the Key City Lodge for many years and then as Noble Grand.

In 1932 he was elected Grand Patriarch to the Grand Encampment of the Jurisdiction of British Columbia and Grand Master of the same in 1956, the highest office in Grand Lodge. He was later Grand Representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge and the Grand Encampment.

Mrs. Johnston was initiated to Cranbrook Maple Leaf Rebekah lodge in 1920 and served in practically all offices including Noble Grand and District Deputy President.

In 1934-35 she was appointed chaplain of the Rebekah Assembly of British Columbia.

Among the many tributes expressed was a gift from Victory Lodge No. 61 Kimberley. As a coincidence the honorees celebrated their 62nd wedding anniversary at Cranbrook on June 26.

Gaucha Invasion Includes Day And Evening Versions

NEW YORK (CP) — Two of last season's top fashion items are holdovers for fall, 1970. The South American gaucha look has returned with increased impact and the Mexican-inspired poncho is back, though with slightly lessened emphasis.

The gaucha look was everywhere at the recent New York showings—possibly because it bridges the skirt-length problem. The straight, wide pants, well below the knee, provide a psychological transition from mini to midi. Also, the effect is avant garde.

Women will have to be somewhat extroverted to wear the total gaucha look of pants, crop jacket, skirt and wide, authentic gaucha belt as shown by Davidow's new Argentinean designer.

Anne Klein really went all out for the gauchos. Her outfits were mostly intended for casual wear, like her leather gaucha pants with a cheetah print blouse and a leather vest. But she did include several that could be worn as street suits, such as grey tweed gaucha pants with a brown leather battle jacket.

Other casual gaucha looks included Robert Hall's flecked tweed pants and soft crepe shirt, with a slender, and centre-fringed leather belt, and his purple plaid pants with a mauve sweater.

The gaucha is also for city wear. Modifications have turned the look into smart pantsuits or pant-dresses that even conservative women could wear. One of the best was by Kasper for Joan Leslie. The jacket of the black-and-white donegal tweed gaucha suit was bordered with black ric-rac braid. Modelia combines grey flannel pants with a banana-color safari jacket over a printed crepe de chine blouse. Suzy Perette's tweed gaucha dress with wide leather belt and patch pockets was matched with its own fringed shawl.

Big unlined capes teamed up with gaucha pants in the collections of both Anne Klein and Junior Sophisticates. And many of the new jump-suits used gaucha-length pants. A western influence also appeared in fringed gaucha costumes. Several were laced up the front of their high-riding gaucha pants.

Gauchos even popped up in late-day moods, such as Calvin Klein's high-waisted gaucha pants and nailhead-studded vest, worn with a stock tie crepe shirt. Perette teamed up brown velvet gaucha pants with a cream satin top and red-and-silver ribboned belt. Junior Sophisticates showed jewelled gaucha jump-suits for evening.

All of which shows that the gaucha is versatile, popular and likely to find its way, in one of its varied forms, into a lot of wardrobes.

PONCHOS EFFECTIVE

"The fringed poncho now is moving into high fashion," fashion expert Eleanor Lambert reported at the American Design Showings. Last season it was mostly a casual wardrobe item and worn more by the young.

The fall poncho isn't a dominant factor, but when it appeared it was effective. Some ponchos were dropped from the shoulders to the waistline, making a skirt, but most designers used them in the usual cape style.

But it was in the evening collections that the poncho shone, especially in Malcolm Starr's huge chiffon ponchos, with matching floor-length gown.

ANN LANDERS

Extra Marital Affair Is No Solution

Dear Ann Landers: After reading the letter in your column from a woman whose husband wanted her to have an affair with another man so she would have something to compare him with, I decided to write. My problem is along the same line.

N, and I have been married for seven years. I was 17 when we married and N. was 19. I was a virgin and he was around some, but not much. Our sex life wasn't great but we both figured it would get better. Well, it hasn't gotten any better. It has gotten worse.

N. works with a very attractive man. (I'll refer to him as K.) K. is ten years older than I am. He has become a family friend and has dinner with us often. Last week N. had to go out of town. He asked K. to take me to dinner and a movie. The two of us had a nice time but I was uneasy. I sensed some high-voltage sexual electricity between us. When my husband returned, I told him in a half-kidding way that K. turned me on. Tonight he came up with a suggestion. He thinks I ought to have an affair with K. in order to learn if I am at fault for our lousy sex life or if he is to blame. My husband has it figured out this way: If nothing happens between K. and me, then I am the one who needs professional help. If K. and I ring bells and hear a thousand violins, my husband needs counselling. He has promised to get it.

I swear this letter is not put on. He means it and so do I. We await your answer. — ON THE VERGE

Dear On: Get off the verge and use your head. The problem exists between you and your husband and that's where it should be resolved. I recommend joint-counselling by a physician who is competent to deal with the problem. (Not all physicians are.) Your gynecologist would be your best bet. A husband who could hatch such a sick scheme needs help either way. I think he has a little trouble both above and below the Mason-Dixon line.

Dear Ann Landers: I didn't like your answer to the reader in Kitchener, Ontario worth a darn. The lady wrote to say she hated to have her woman friend's hands on her during conversation. It made her nervous and she said so. Instead of giving that nice lady a sensible answer, you turned the whole thing around and made it look like she was the nutty one because she didn't like to be nudged, pawed, petted and stroked.

I'm a person who doesn't care to be touched by people during conversation and I am not crazy. When folks who talk to me start to get tactile, I take their hands off me in such a way that they know I don't like it. This cures them fast. I suppose you think I'm loony, too. — Touch Me Not

Dear Touch: No, I don't think you are kooky. I think your solution is a good one. In fact, if I re-read my column you will see that this is the solution I suggested. The woman who wrote to me said she became so upset when her friend touched her that she had to leave the luncheon and go home. And I call THAT loony.

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you printed a letter from an office worker who wanted to know what to do about a very good friend who was forever bumming cigarettes.

I have a fine solution for her. Stop smoking. Do two people a favor. — One Who Did and Rejoices Daily

Dear Daily: Great idea! Too bad it isn't as easy to do as it sounds.

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell folks that when they see a person with a black eye not to ask, "What happened?" Anybody with half a brain can see that somebody probably hung on a haymaker.

And while you're at it, tell people that the jokes about shiners are not funny, to the person who has one. I have had two in four weeks and I am sick of noisy questions and stale wisecracks. Thank you. — Ducked Too Late

Dear Duckey: Two in four weeks? A person who has that much trouble with his eyes must also have a problem with his mouth. If ten isn't enough, count to forty.

Kelowna And Kamloops Unbeaten In Babe Ruth

Host team Kelowna and Kamloops remain the only undefeated teams as the B.C. district five Babe Ruth baseball championships, being played at Kelowna's Elks' Stadium, moved into its third day of activity today.

Playing the second of four games Monday—in the five-day long double knockout tournament—Kamloops rallied for a 10-8 win over Prince George, while in the final game of the day, Kelowna blasted hapless Rutland 28-2.

In other second round games, Penticton removed Quesnel from further competition in the tournament, by taking a 5-4 decision, and defending provincial champion Trail eliminated Grand Forks with a 7-3 victory.

Kamloops had built up a commanding 1-0 lead in their game with Prince George, and were coasting along behind the no-hit pitching of Ron Matheson when the Cariboo squad suddenly broke loose for four runs in the fifth and repeated the feat in the sixth to take an 8-7 lead.

But Kamloops quickly bounced back in the seventh inning with three runs to pull out the win.

Shortstop Reg. Moorehouse paced the Kamloops attack with two singles and a double, good for four RBI.

In the Kelowna-Rutland rout, highly favored Kelowna broke into a 9-0 lead in the first inning, then never scored less than three runs an inning until they were blanked in their final turn at bat.

They pounded three Rutland pitchers for 23 hits, including five by Ken Weninger, and four more by Gerry Kielbiski.

Kelowna and Kamloops will square off in the key game of the tournament Wednesday at 3 p.m., a prelude to Thursday's final.

In a loser's bracket game, Penticton third baseman John Kantz led his club to their narrow win, collecting three of his team's four hits, and driving in four runs.

Trail, meanwhile, recovered from its opening day 4-0 loss to Kelowna, by snapping a 3-3 deadlock in the fifth inning as they poured across four runs.

In three games being played today, all loser's bracket affairs, Vernon took on Penticton at 11 a.m., Prince George met Trail at 1 p.m. and in a 4 p.m. contest, the winner of the Vernon-Penticton game meets Rutland.

Royals Make Comeback Edge Rival Rutland 3-2

The Royal Ann Royals and the Rutland Molson Rovers of the Kelowna and District Senior B softball league are now sitting back for someone else to defeat the other.

The two teams, after a 3-2 Royal victory Monday, are deadlocked in first place in the five-team league, each with a 17-6-1 record and aren't scheduled to meet each other again in regular season play.

Each club has four games remaining in the 28-game schedule, and each must rely on one of the other three teams to pull an upset on the other.

Royals play two of their remaining games against the fourth-place Willow Inn Willows, one with third place Vernon Kah-Hotel, and one against last place Kelowna Labatts. The Rovers meanwhile, meet Vernon twice, a team they haven't lost to this season, one with the Willows, and another with the Labs.

ALL IN THIRD

Monday, the Royals relied on three hits in the third inning, while taking advantage of two Rutland errors, for their only three runs, to recover from a 7-0 whalloping Wednesday in Rutland.

Nick Bulach and Joe Fisher led off the inning with consecutive singles, while Rod Bennett advanced the runners one base with a sacrifice bunt.

Winnipeg pitcher Don Schmidt

helped his own cause with a two-run single, with two out, bringing in Fisher and Bulach.

The Rovers gave up the winning run, when Bill Andrews sang at a third strike pitch by Arnie Rath, and went to first after catcher Bob Boyer dropped the ball. Boyer scrambling for the loose ball, threw wild to first base in attempt to get Andrews, and allowed Schmidt to score from first, as the ball travelled to deep right field.

Rookie Larry Lawrence Sparks Calgary To Win Over Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Rookie quarterback Larry Lawrence engineered two scoring plays in the third quarter to lead Calgary Stampede to a 26-17 win over Ottawa Rough Riders Monday night in a Canadian Football League exhibition game.

A crowd of 15,987 watched the Western club in its second straight pre-season game. Ottawa, the defending Grey Cup champions, lost previous starts to Toronto Argonauts and the CFL All-Stars.

Lawrence, a 21-year-old graduate of the University of Iowa, handed off to halfback Hugh McKinnis for one touchdown and combined with Jim Sillie for a 64-yard pass-and-run score.

Jerry Keeling, Calgary's first-string quarterback who played most of the game, passed 34 yards to Herman Harrison for the third Calgary touchdown.

Larry Robinson kicked two 15-yard field goals and also converted two of the Calgary touchdowns.

WOOD GETS TD
Gary Wood, being groomed as Ottawa's starting quarterback, scored the only Rider touchdown on a six-yard run.

Ivan MacMillan, an 18-year-old from Nearby Alexandria, Ont., kicked three field goals, converted the Ottawa touchdown and added a single.

Wood played the first half in which Ottawa held a 17-10 lead. He gave way to Tom Dimuzio and Jim Ousley who failed to put together a steady offensive threat.

Calgary had a total offence of 480 yards compared with Ottawa's 340. Keeling completed 17 of 26 pass attempts for 212 yards, and Lawrence was good on four of six attempts for 95 yards.

Royal Family Watches Roughies Squeeze Past Bombers 22-21

WINNIPEG (CP) — Saskatchewan Roughriders held off a last-minute drive in Western Football League exhibition play Monday to eke out a 22-21 victory over Winnipeg blue Bombers before 19,400 fans.

The Royal Family arrived in Winnipeg Monday night and made Winnipeg stadium their first official stop.

Arriving in a motorcade, Queen Elizabeth, Prince Philip, Prince Charles and Princess Ann circled the field in open cars and following official ceremonies took their seats in a reserved section at field level.

At the end of the third quarter they went onto the field to meet the coaches and captains of both teams, chatted at length with the players, then left in the motorcade.

On the statistical chart, the clubs were fairly even as the score would indicate.

Saskatchewan picked up 17 first downs to Winnipeg's 20 and rolled up 345 yards in total offence compared with 337 for the Bombers.

Reed led the Saskatchewan ground gainers with 46 yards on seven carries. Silas McKinnis was a close second with 43 yards on five carries.

Van Pelt was the leading rusher for Winnipeg, picking up 60 yards on 14 tries and also catching three passes for 47 more yards.

Lancaster attempted 16 passes, completed 10 and had one intercepted for 114 yards gained.

Terry Southall tried two and completed none. He had one intercepted.

Labs Lose To Kals 12-1

VERNON — The Vernon Kal-Hotel bombed the last place Kelowna Labatts with 13 hits Monday, and defeated the visitors 12-1, to take a firm hold on third place, six points ahead of the Willow Inn Willows.

Russ Keckalo led the Vernon attack with a pair of home runs, his sixth and seventh of the campaign, while shallow hitting Norm Rogers slammed his first of the season, all coming off losing pitcher Ken Hehn.

The Kals scored three runs in the first inning on Hehn, four more in the second, and two more on reliever Ray Heywood. The hometown squad then got two in the third, and closed out their scoring in the sixth with another.

The Labs scored their only run in the first inning.

Gerry Altwasser (6-2), gave up just three hits for his sixth consecutive win of the season.

Balls Expected To Fly Off Bats Of NL Sluggers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Every body wonders what kind of bounces the baseballs will take tonight in the first all-star game ever played on a wall-to-wall carpet. Everybody except Jim Palmer.

Palmer, whose strong right arm is expected to provide the impetus for an American League challenge to the National's seven-year all-star reign, is more concerned about balls that don't bounce. And he has 148 good reasons to worry.

"How am I going to relax tonight with that lineup waiting for me?" the Baltimore Orioles' pitching ace asked Monday after he was given the starting assignment against Tom Seaver of New York Mets in the 41st all-star game.

Lined up against Palmer on the astroturf of Riverfront Stadium, new home of Cincinnati Reds, will be six of the game's most prolific longball hitters—starting nod from manager Earl Weaver of the Orioles because of the National's predominantly right-hand hitting lineup. All of the National League starters swing from the right side except shortstop Don Kessinger, a switcher.

Weaver, who intends to follow Palmer with southpaw Sam McDowell of Cleveland Indians and right-hander Jim Perry of Minnesota Twins, hopes the early right-to-right ratio will be to his club's advantage.

While Palmer should have his hands full, starting with leadoff

All-American Corrigall Finds Argo Lineup Tough To Crack

AURORA, Ont. (CP) — After winning all-American honors at Kent State University, Jim Corrigall's job as a defensive tackle with Toronto Argonauts seemed a sure thing.

The Argos lured him away from St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League, who had made him their No. 2 draft choice.

But when Corrigall arrived at Argos' training camp in this community north of Toronto he still had to prove he belonged in the Canadian Football League.

... star prospect

Competition is new to the six-foot-three, 245-pound tackle with size-13 triple-E shoes. He was so outstanding at Kent State in Ohio that they retired his No. 79 jersey after he played his last game there last season.

"The thing you immediately realize is that you're now playing against grown men. They're physically mature and they're more intelligent, at least in terms of football. They've got a lot of experience."

"You'd come across a few guys like this in the Mid-American Conference—but only a few. Here, they're all that way."

"So, as I say, it's really tough. It's tough for everybody, sure, but it's really tough for me."

OHIO U. PROGRAM Sports Administration Trainee

MONTREAL (CP) — For a long-time baseball fan like Jim Worman of Albany, N.Y., summer school might be a drag.

But the 23-year-old Worman is enrolled in a unique program which eliminates the need for playing hockey from summer school to see a baseball game.

Worman is taking a master's degree in sports administration at Ohio University and his summer project is a three-month stint with Montreal Expos of baseball's National League in the club's front office.

"We're the only school in the country to offer this type of program," Worman said. "It's actually a master's degree in education, but we take a little bit of everything—physical education, personnel, business administration, journalism. They try to give us as broad a background as possible."

"We also have these intern programs. The school gets in touch with professional teams and arranges jobs."

Worman was glad of the opportunity to work here, because he says the Expos "offer a first-class management."

"It's a young team, but at the same time, the people running it have an excellent reputation for doing things

Greybeard Lengthens Lead In Victoria-To-Maui Boat Race

VICTORIA (CP)—Good, stiff winds continued Monday to push the leading boats in the Victoria-to-Maui yacht race, but the trade winds their skippers have been hoping for failed to materialize.

The leaders in the 2,300-mile race were all grouped at Monday's position check in an area where they should have encountered the steady westerly winds. They were sailing in north and northwesterly winds of about 20 knots instead.

Front-running Greybeard, skippered by Lol Killam of Vancouver, moved up to a position 125 miles ahead of second-place Celeste, and was reported about 560 miles short of Hawaii. The race began here July 1.

In third place was Hasty, a 45-foot sloop from Portland, Ore. which moved 200 miles Monday to stick close to the stern of Celeste. She had covered 210 miles Sunday to pull into position about 45 miles behind Celeste.

Defending champion Bill Killam of Vancouver, in his Porpoise III, was in fifth spot about 60 miles behind Six Pack.

Winds were ranging from light to about 30 knots, with better winds for those boats sailing on the western fringes of the pack. Most of the boats took a longer, southerly course in hopes of Sabrina and Drummer Boy. In 30-knot winds, moved to ninth and 10th positions from 12th and 18th respectively.

Three boats, the Canadian Forces ketch Oriole, Eha Makani and Puffin II, went unreported Monday. Eha Makani is reporting in on alternate days to conserve battery strength.

At Monday's check, this was the order: Sunday's position bracketed.

1. Greybeard II; 2. Celeste; 3. Hasty; 4. Six Pack; 5. Porpoise III; 6. Aukule; 7. Gabrielle II; 8. Long Gone II; 9. Drummer Boy; 10. Sabrina; 11. Lucy Alice; 12. Cubara; 13. Satin Doll; 14. Scotch Mist; 15. Polatch; 16. African Star; 17. Mutineer III; 18. Whales Tale; 19. Rasalagune; 20. Unreported — Eha Makani; Oriole (14); Puffin II (21).

Intrepid Still Leads

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Intrepid kept her record clean in the America's Cup observation trials Monday, trouncing Heritage by nine minutes and two seconds over a 19.8-mile course on Rhode Island Sound.

Valiant won the other race by 5:57 over Weatherly.

The results left Intrepid, the 1907 Cup defender, with a 6-0 record, Valiant is 3-3, Weatherly and Heritage 1-4 each.

Intrepid and Valiant will meet in the first race Tuesday, with Heritage starting against Weatherly 15 minutes later.

While American 12-metre yachts were racing far off shore, the French contender, France, was losing a 15-mile race to the American yacht, Constellation, by 1:45.

France was sailed in the race by Baron Marcel Bich, head of the French syndicate, and had her designer, Andre Maurice, aboard. Pierre Delour sailed Constellation.

The race was a practice race. France will engage later in a series of races with the Australian yacht, Gretel II, to challenge for the Cup against one of the four American yachts in the current observation trials.

Hong Kong Leads Bowling Parade

EDINBURGH (Reuters) — Hong Kong went into the overall lead at the top of the league table in the Commonwealth Games bowls fours championship today when they beat Canada easily by 23 shots to 13.

Overnight, Canada had jointly held top place with Hong Kong, but Hong Kong moved into a comfortable 19-12 positions with six ends to play.

Canada added only one more shot to their total while Hong Kong took five.

Playing on Canada's four and all of Vancouver are Thomas R. Jarvis, 47, third E. S. A. (Sam) Cuffin, 65, lead E. Ted Hodgson, 71, second James Denholm, 70.

Papua and Northern Ireland provided the best bowling of the morning, with Papua excelling early on to take a 16-9 lead at the 15th. But the Irish bowled immaculately for those last six ends, scoring 12 shots while holding Papua down to four.

Wales romped away with a fine 27 to 7 win over Malawi. The Welsh, 7-1 at the fifth, progressed to a 23-3 lead at the 15th. Both front men, Charles Thompson and 78-year-old Bill Patmore, built good heads which the Welsh back men improved upon.

Highlight of the tournament came when Australia recovered from a five-shot deficit at the 15th end. They scored 11 shots to Kenya's six on the last six ends of play and finished 19-11.

Fiji made a brave effort to gain their first points of the tournament but were again beaten, this time by Zambia 25-18.

Royal Tour Is Turning Into An Endurance Test

WINNIPEG (CP) — The Royal Family took in part of a football game Monday night as they arrived in this Manitoba capital for the final two days of a centennial tour rapidly turning into an endurance test.

Royal tour officials said late Monday that while the Queen may be "a little bushed," she isn't fatigued. She has shown observers an amazing ability to rebound refreshed in a tour that began July 5 at Frobisher Bay, N.W.T.

Today's itinerary includes visits to eight communities, one 60 miles away, by helicopter, car, train and boat. The Royal Family will be shuffled like a poker deck to meet a schedule described as "the worst can of worms of the tour" by co-ordinators here.

Monday's portion of the tour looked innocent enough on paper, but it began with a military show at Shilo in which the platform on which the Royal Family sat was nearly blown away by a helicopter.

When defensive players smeared a ball carrier, she remarked, according to Mr. Willis: "They sure killed him."

The big thrill of the day came, however, at Shilo, a military camp 100 miles west of here. A turbulent squall hit the camp an hour before the Queen's arrival, drenching everyone. Some 300 army cadets were tossed into trucks, given a shower and fed hot chocolate after being nearly drowned before shelter was found.

When the Royal Family arrived, it was raining and thunder boomed in the distance. But the show went on.

Eighteen paratroopers, dropped from 10,000 feet, came gracefully through the clouds in colorful new chutes.

GET SOGGY LANDING

Four big Hercules transports and three Buffalo transports dropped 350 men of the Canadian Airborne Regiment on the wet field from 1,200 feet.

The royal visitors were seated on a low platform, with Supply Minister James Richardson and Col. R.G. Theriault, the regiment commander, when a powerful CH131 helicopter stationed itself about 30 feet in front of the platform and 50 feet in the air.

The helicopter then reared to allow 16 men to slide to the ground in a demonstration of rappelling, a technique to drop men in forest or jungle areas.

The draft from the helicopter hit the platform, and the blue canopy above it, full force, threatening to blow it over. As the Queen ducked her hat and Princess Anne crouched behind her umbrella, mounties and soldiers grabbed the four steel poles holding the canopy, now a sail, and braced themselves to keep the platform from flying away.

Clashes Along The Suez Canal

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli troops clashed Monday night with Egyptian raiding force south of El Qantara on the east bank of the Suez canal, the military command said today.

The Israelis repelled the raiders and said one of them was killed. There were no Israeli casualties, the spokesman said.

Israeli artillery then opened up along the line of the Egyptians' retreat. Explosive charges and mines were found near the dead Egyptian.

It was the first Egyptian cross-canal strike admitted by the Israelis since May 30, when 13 Israelis were killed in an Egyptian ambush in the northern canal zone. Egypt said Monday that a party of Egyptian commandos crossed the canal Sunday night, but the Israelis denied this.

WEATHER ROUGH

Wearing humidity and thunder showers left a wrung-out look by the time they arrived here after visits to Portage la Prairie, a city of 35,000 and Benard, a Hutterite commune where girls in ankle-length dresses and identical polka-dot kerchiefs peeped over the fences of their traditions and admired Charles.

In Winnipeg, crowds lined the streets as the Queen and Philip, in one convertible, and Charles and Anne, in another, stood and waved to cheers and whistles.

They were taken from St. James station to Winnipeg Stadium for an exhibition Canadian Football League game between

MISSILE LAUNCHING EQUIPMENT ROLLED OUT TODAY BY FRANCE

PARIS (AP) — France rolled out nuclear missile launching equipment today for the first time at the Bastille Day military parade and brought back a Foreign Legion contingent—the only French armed forces unit now in combat.

A missile transport vehicle that looked like a long olive drab moving van and two cement-mixer-shaped missile launchers, used in loading French missiles into their silos, rolled down the Champs Elysees. They were in the middle of the parade of 10,000 soldiers, 650 vehicles and 161 planes and helicopters.

The equipment serves the French middle-range 1,800-mile strategic nuclear missiles. The missiles were not shown to the thousands who came to watch in hazy, cool weather. This is the 181st anniversary of the storming of the Bastille, the event most closely associated with the start of the French Revolution.

The army also showed off its American-made Hawk ground-to-air missile and the R-20 flying missile, a French device launched like an aircraft to operate in poor weather or tactical conditions.

The Foreign Legion, wearing white kepis and marching at its traditional three-quarter-speed step, was back in the ranks for the first time since 1966 after a period of banishment because of its association with political controversy.

During the de Gaulle era, the legion was de-emphasized and humiliated after some of its elements rebelled against the general in the Algiers colonial putsch. It now is fighting again in Chad against rebels trying to break away from the government of the former French African colony.

With legion soldiers dying under French colors, exclusion of the unit from the parade would have been resented by the French military.

Brazil Awaits Canada Challenge

SAO PAULO (AP) — Canada's Davis Cup tennis team practised today in grey, chilly weather for its match this week-end against Brazil in the American Zone finals.

Mike Belkin of Montreal and John Sharpe of Toronto will face Brazil's Thomas Koch and Jose Edson Madarin in the opening singles matches Saturday.

The pairings will be announced Thursday.

Doubles play in the best-of-five-matches competition will be Sunday, with the remaining two singles matches Monday.

Duncan Girl Indian Choice

VANCOUVER (CP) — Pretty Miss Jennifer Williams was the crowning touch at the Vancouver Sea Festival Indian Days gathering in Brockton Oval Sunday.

The crowd of about 500 watched the tribal dancing events with interest but do-eyed Jennifer of Duncan, B.C., won their hearts and the loudest applause as she was crowned Miss B.C. Indian Princess for 1970.

ONLY A BRUISE

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pitcher Steve Blass' throwing arm isn't fractured, as had been reported earlier, the Pittsburgh Pirates said Monday.

Team doctors described the injury as a "painful and serious bruise."

Blass was struck Sunday on the right forearm by a line drive off Cardinal catcher Joe Torre during a game in St. Louis.

The Pirates have asked the National League to place Blass on the 21-day disabled list. He'll undergo whirlpool treatments and exercises to loosen the arm while out of action.

Announce New Healing Substance: Shrinks Piles

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissue.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinking) took place.

Most important of all—results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue.

Now Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores. Satisfaction or your money refunded.

Youths Throw Rocks At Police

VANCOUVER (CP)—A group of about 100 youths threw rocks at police and buildings in the city's west end early today before a two-hour demonstration was broke up.

Police said the youths, in the area for a street dance in conjunction with the Vancouver Sea Festival, began rocking a car which moved down a closed-off street shortly before midnight.

When police told them to disperse and then made a clean sweep of the street, the crowd began throwing rocks and other objects at police and nearby buildings.

About a dozen youths were taken into custody although information about charges was not released.

Senior police officers at the scene declared the gathering an unlawful assembly about an hour and a half after the initial dispersal order and the crowd about 25 minutes later.

Rocks were thrown at a force of about 50 police officers wearing protective helmets and carrying short wooden billy clubs. Two policemen were injured and one was taken to hospital with suspected concussion.

Windows were broken in several stores in the area and one parked car had its windshield cracked and the air let out of its tires.

A similar melee broke out in the area Saturday night.

Milwaukee Police Ready For Noisy Crowd Of Youths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Police moved in with tear gas, smoke canisters and riot sticks Monday night to disperse a noisy crowd of about 1,000 youths in Milwaukee, Wis.

Four policemen and a youth were slightly injured and 12 persons were arrested at Water Tower Park, scene of an earlier disturbance.

The police went into action after the crowd began tearing down signs which proclaimed a 10 p.m. curfew. Many of the youths pelted police cars with rocks and bottles, heavily damaging some of them.

Police and young people had clashed at the park July 1 and 2 after area residents and officials of a nearby hospital complained of all-night noise in the area.

Meanwhile, racially tense New Bedford, Mass., and Highland Park, Mich., were relatively calm.

The comparative quiet in New Bedford came after Senator Edward W. Brooke (Rep. Mass.), the only Negro senator in the United States, appealed to area residents to "cool it." Mayor George Roberts of New Bedford relaxed a 9 p.m.-to-5 a.m. curfew imposed Sunday, moving the starting time up to 10:30 p.m.

British Army Eases Grip On Northern Island Today

BELFAST (CP) — The British Army eased its grip on Northern Ireland today, granting huge Protestant parades Monday passed off with the least feared renewal of religious rioting.

An army spokesman said military authorities now will consider whether they can dispense with some of the 11,000 troops at present deployed in Northern Ireland.

A sense of relief followed the peaceful ending of the parades which had 100,000 members of the Protestant Orange Order on the march in 10 different parts of Northern Ireland.

It was predicted for weeks before that the marches would provoke major civil conflict with the Roman Catholic minority.

After the parades ended Monday night, Deputy Premier Brian Faulkner told a news conference: "It should be regarded as a significant victory for common sense that the occasion went off without incident."

Brig. Michael Davley, assistant chief of staff in Northern Ireland, said: "From the security point of view it was a very satisfactory day."

The absence of violence was attributed to the massive turnout of police and British troops and a plea for restraint from Premier Jack Lynch of the Irish Republic.

As the band and lodges of the Protestant Orange Order drifted home early today, only one significant incident was reported. An explosion started a fire in an empty hotel in Belfast, and police said it was caused by an anarchist's bomb. No one was hurt.

The parades celebrating the defeat in 1690 of King James II's Roman Catholic troops by William of Orange's Protestants at the Battle of the Boyne.

Along with the tight security, credit also was given to Lynch's appeal last week for order.

Some observers warned against optimism.

"Anybody who wanted to start something could pick better times than when the entire security forces are on the alert and waiting," one said. "In this game it's the unexpected that's effective."

During the parades, Roman Catholics stayed quietly in their own districts.

While the banner-waving Protestants marched, troops and police lined parade routes and ringed sensitive areas in the biggest security operation in the British Isles since the Second World War.

Helicopters clustered overhead as 40,000 Protestants marched through Belfast. Armored vehicles cruised the streets, barbed wire and barricades separated Protestant and Roman Catholic areas and troops with rifles at the ready waited on rooftops around the city.

More Telephones Used Last Year

OTTAWA (CP) — The number of telephones in Canada rose last year four times as fast as the number of people.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today that the 16 largest telephone systems operated 9,000,512 telephones, an increase of six per cent for the year.

Canada's mid-year population estimate of 21,061,000 for 1969 was about 1.5 per cent more than in 1968.

The 16 largest telephone companies range from Bell Canada's 5,752,820 telephones to the Port Arthur Municipal Telephone System's 27,625. The 16 systems operate about 97 per cent of the telephones in the country, but complete figures for 1969 are not yet available.

DIS said 14,186,135,000 local calls and 427,583,000 long-distance calls were reported by the 16 firms in 1969. This comes to an average of 1,623 calls per telephone, down only slightly from 1,640 per phone in 1968.

PROFITS DOWN

SASKATOON (CP) — The city's electrical utility showed a profit of $274,622 in February, bringing the total profit for the first two months of 1970 to $382,241. This is down slightly from $382,340 for the first two months of 1969.

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — Store official Bill Lockett, furious when his wife, Pauline, had an accident, painted "Bers" in black letters over the dent in the family car. Then Lockett cracked up the car. His wife's reaction: "One guess what I'm going to write across the dent."

Duke's Daughter Put On Probation

LONDON (AP) — Lady Kathleen Reynolds, daughter of an English duke, was put on two years' probation today for giving a friend a map of the home of her duchess stepmother so he could rob it.

The family motto is: Loyalty Knows No Shame.

Prosecutor Suzanne Norwood told the court that Lady Kathleen, 19, also sketched plans of her friends' homes and gave them to Eugene Ferris, 22.

DOCTOR'S NEEDS
SUTTON COLDFIELD, England (CP) — Dr. Barbara Oakley pleaded with a thief not to steal her appointments book and her keys when she found the man in her Warwickshire home. After speaking with him for several minutes she persuaded him to take only the £50 in her handbag. "The appointments diary and the business keys were worth more to her than the money," her husband said later.

Varied Causes Of Pidgeon Toes

By George C. Thosteson, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you discuss pigeon toes in a young child (age 3)? Cause, cure, methods of treatment, seriousness, etc.—Mrs. E.C.R. Pigeon toes means toeing-in, which can occur in both feet or just one. Rather than "cause," think in terms of causes. The disorder could have been due to the position of the foot while the fetus is still in the womb.

A commoner cause is a rotation of the tibia—the big bone of the lower leg. The whole leg may be rotated inward, or the rotation may only be enough to make the foot toe in.

Unduly tight muscles in the foot may also cause this inward twist to the foot.

Generally, the defect begins to correct itself when the child starts walking. If not, then manipulation of the foot may be required, and corrective shoes, with appropriate heel or sole wedges, may also be necessary.

In severe cases, consult an orthopedist (bone specialist) to determine the cause and then to indicate what kind of treatment, and how much, to undertake.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My boy friend claims that after a vasectomy a male has to take hormones or he will become feminized. I doubt this.—D.J.G.

Your boy friend is very much mistaken. A vasectomy is a means of sterilization, because, with the cutting and tying of the duct, the male sperm is prevented from being released.

The operation does not interfere with the activity of glands or production of hormones, so it is not necessary to take hormones after the surgery.

Note to Mrs. V.S.: No, it is not necessary to have a spleen. Plenty of people are walking around after having it removed. The spleen is very soft tissue, and for that reason it is virtually impossible to sew up a tear or rupture in it. To prevent continued bleeding, the spleen can be removed, tying off the connecting blood vessels.

Opening lead — two of diamonds.

Ask any player whether he'd rather be declarer or defender, and he's likely to tell you he much prefers being declarer. However, the fact is that the defensive role is far more challenging—even if it's only because a player defends twice as often as he is declarer.

Usually, it's much more difficult to play accurate defense than accurate offense. Mostly, this is because declarer sees all his values right there in front of him and knows exactly which cards the opponents have, while a defender sees only a portion of his side's resources and a portion of declarer's and can only theorize about the location of the unseen cards.

Here is a case where the defense slipped badly. It is true that South made an excellent play to give East a chance to go wrong, but, even so, East should not have fallen into the trap.

West led a diamond and declarer played low from dummy, permitting East to win with the ten. South realized he had no chance if the defense switched to hearts at trick two, and he tried to make it easy for East to continue diamonds.

East should have returned a heart and his side could then have cashed three heart tricks to put declarer down one. But East found it much easier to continue diamonds after the ten held the trick. He played the ace and South was able to cash six spades and four clubs to make the contract.

Had declarer put up the jack of diamonds at trick one, East would have been forced to shift to a heart and South would have gone down one. Despite declarer's excellent play at trick one, East should have known from the bidding that South had a singleton diamond and that a heart shift was absolutely mandatory.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Present planetary influences may make some persons emotionally unstable on Wednesday, so go out of your way to be polite in dealing with family, friends and business associates. In most matters, this will be a day in which to stick to routine, seek quiet forms of relaxation during leisure hours.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that this new year in your life could prove a highly productive one. Material goals which may have seemed almost unattainable at first, your next birthday rolls around—if you are willing to work hard and, possibly, expand your field of operations. Chances for advancement along both occupational and monetary lines are most likely to occur during the following period: The weeks between Aug. 1 and Nov. 15 (with October exceptionally productive), the first two weeks in January, the latter half of February, in mid-March and throughout May. In connection with financial matters, however, just one admonition: Do not engage in speculation of any kind for the balance of 1970—but most especially during November and December.

Cancerians will also be star-blessed along personal lines during the next 12 months, with emphasis on romance during the balance of the month, in late September, November, February and May. What may look like the "real thing" around the Christmas holidays could prove deceptive, however, so let your head rule your heart during those days. Domestic concerns should be especially pleasing during the forthcoming year, with especially felicitous periods indicated between now and Aug. 15 and during the four months beginning on Sept. 1. Most propitious periods for travel: August, October, next January, April and May.

A child born on this day will be endowed with great reserve and dignity; will be of a studious nature and could excel in science—especially chemistry—or in the educational field; may take up music as an avocation and do very well at it.

DOG NEEDS DIET

TYNEMOUTH, England (CP) — Police Alsatian Lariat was granted a pension of as much meat as he could eat for the rest of his life when he retired from the Northumberland force. But in three years, the paunchy pooch has eaten his way through more than £200 (about $500) worth and now his expensive pension has been cancelled. His former police handler will have to meet his food bills himself.

HITLER ON SHOW

LONGLEAT, England (CP) — After assembling one of the finest collections in Britain of souvenirs and relics of Sir Winston Churchill, the Marquess of Bath has turned his collector's eye to Adolf Hitler. He has acquired more than 20 paintings by Hitler and other objects which will probably go on display to the public at Longleat's Wiltshire home.

COOK COULDN'T COOK

HUNTINGDON, England (CP) — Everyone liked Mrs. Nicky Stanislas, 62, but after nine years as a cook at the hospital here, her employers decided she had to go. She simply couldn't cook. Her boss Mrs. Josephine Lyons said Nicky took 30 minutes to boil an egg and left vegetables stewing for a couple of hours or more.

PETS POSE DANGER

CHERTSEY MEADS, England (CP) — Worried residents hunted through the statute books to find a way of stopping Jeffrey Wheeler from exercising his pets around this Surrey community. They include several lions, pumas and leopards. Wheeler claimed they are tame, but neighbors were afraid of what might happen if they got loose.

INVASION ALARM

DUMPTON GAP, England (CP) — Police and customs officials raced to an isolated bay on the Kent coast following the reported landing from a submarine of a party of Pakistanis armed with machine-guns. They discovered the invasion had been staged by a local amateur movie club, using wooden guns and a cardboard submarine.

GOOD RELATIONS

STEVENAGE, England (CP) — Twenty-five shop stewards walked off the job at a Herfordshire factory and went home to watch an afternoon TV program on improving productivity and relations between bosses and employees. The plant owners refused their permission to watch the show in the staff restaurant.

GULL TROUBLE

DOVER, England (CP) — Seagulls along the Kent coast have become vicious. There have been vicious attacks on both adults and children. Marjorie Fowles, a housewife, claims she has been kept a prisoner in her home because of the gulls. Local authorities say they have no responsibility to move nests built in urban districts.

Viscount's Son Tells Court Was Tricked Into Marriage

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — The only son of a British viscount told a court today he was "tricked" into marrying an Australian girl who would be the United States three days after the wedding.

John Desmond Anderson, 20, pleaded guilty to forging the signature of his father, Viscount Waverley, on a marriage consent form.

Anderson said he met the girl, Anne Suzette Davidson, in a hotel bar five days after he arrived in Sydney last July. "She appeared to know my father had a title and we had a long conversation," he said. "I should have been on my guard."

"My condition was brought about by Anne wanting to drink three bottles of champagne before the ceremony to celebrate."

Two days later the girl, who was a lot older than he, said she was a call girl and wished she had not married him. Off she went the next day to Miami Beach.

The judge noted that Anderson during his year in Australia had been convicted of stealing, receiving stolen goods and larceny. He put him on probation for a year, ordered him to post a $100 behavior bond, and told him he would recommend that he be deported if he failed to report regularly to the probation service.

FAST WORK, INSIDE AND OUT

Steel ladders were quickly run up, hoses laid and connected and firemen threw their operation into the usual high gear Monday as flames ate at the three building operation of Sun-Rype Products Ltd. on Ellis Street in Kelowna's north end. Framing the firemen atop a section of building used for storage are parts of a processing machine. A crew with cutting torches worked under a spray of water cutting the equipment into pieces small enough to be removed from the building. The equipment is highly specialized and manufactured by only one firm in North America.—(Courier Photo)

Salvation Of Otter Target Of Hunters

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP) — The federal-provincial hunt for sea otters got under way here Monday in the second phase of a program to re-establish the species in a vacant man-made niche along the British Columbia coast.

The 177-foot federal fisheries department research ship G. B. Reed sailed from this Vancouver Island port for Alaska with nine wild life biologists and technicians aboard.

Sea otters are extinct in B.C. — a result of the European and China fur trade in the 1800s. The last known sea otter sighting in B.C. was at Grassie Island in Kyquoot Sound on the west coast of Vancouver Island in 1929.

In charge of the expedition is Ian Smith, provincial wild life biologist for Vancouver Island and the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Mr. Smith said that this summer's expedition would be the first experiment to trap sea otters and then transport them by ship to new locations. "We hope to catch more than 20 of the critters," he said, "and then keep them in holding tanks on the Reed."

When the Reed reaches Alaska the scientists and crew will set 300-foot salmon gill nets in different kelp beds in Prince William Sound.

If the expedition runs according to schedule the Reed will release the otters in the vicinity of Bunsby Island on the west coast of Vancouver Island July 31.

Mr. Smith and a small group will stay on to observe the animals which are likely to disperse fairly quickly if they follow the same pattern as the 340 otters given to B.C. by Alaska last year.

Mr. Smith said the otter hunt should make the chance of re-establishing the species in B.C. much greater and within four to five years scientists will know definitely if the experiments have worked.

Minister Comes Under Fire On Indian Fund Administration

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP) — The Union of B.C. Chiefs Monday accused Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell of side-stepping the issue of control of the First Citizens' Fund by his charge Friday that Indians were concerned with the high administration.

Bill Wilson, interim administrator for the union, released the text of a letter that would be sent to the minister in reaction to his charge.

"You speak of argument," the letter stated, "We speak of co-operation. You speak of responsibilities; we ask only to be given the opportunity to become truly responsible for our own affairs."

Criticism of the government's fund for native peoples in the province was the keynote of a weekend regional conference of chiefs here.

"If the government refuses to allow Indians administration over money designed for them, they might as well have it back," said Chief Forrest Walkem, member of the executive committee of the union.

The union said last week it could not accept money "from a fund that at times appears to us as little more than a campaign fund" and returned a $13,292 cheque from the fund to Mr. Campbell, head of the fund committee of cabinet ministers.

PULLED FROM FLAMES
LANGLEY (CP) — One man was killed and two others were seriously injured Monday night on Highway 401 near here when their car went out of control, struck a concrete guard-ridge at the side of the road and

Raft Party In River

CLEARWATER, B.C. (CP) — A seven-man raft-cano party making a commemorative voyage down the often-treacherous North Thompson River to Kamloops found themselves swept into the river an hour after they started Monday.

But all of them, including a dog named Snoopy, swam safely ashore.

They recovered their raft and canoe and within a few hours were on their way again on the 90-mile journey that is expected to take three or more days.

In the party are raft captain Doug Hoon, James McGrady, Robert LeBlanc, Bill McInnis and Lyle and Randy Baker, the latter two in a canoe which is preceding the raft to warn of dangers ahead.

RCMP here said Monday just after the voyagers started out that the canoe tipped and then the raft, equipped with an oar-like rudder, got out of control. The eight-by-16-foot raft was carried under an overhanging snag and was wiped clean of all its occupants and equipment, including a canopy.

The raft is made of fir logs, strapped together with rope waterproofed with linseed oil. It is a replica of the rafts used by overlanders to come down rivers as they pioneered the overland route from Alberta to the British Columbia Interior in 1862.

The raft voyagers hope to reach Kamloops by July 15 and the start of the annual Kam Overlander Days celebrations.

Cherry Flight Lands Safely

EDMONTON (CP) — A Pacific Western Airlines Hercules carried an unusual cargo to Scotland from Penticton Monday — 15 tons of cherries.
